

Giandomenico RIVETTI

MANAGING PARTNER

AXCEL Partners Italy

Giandomenico has 35 years of experience in the Electrical Equipment industry with ABB starting as an Electronic Designer and going on to hold a number of leadership positions, first in R&D, then as Head of a Global Product Group, managing a large factory then a region, and finally a multi-billion Global Business Unit.

By leading organisations in over 60 countries on all continents, he acquired a strong international background and multicultural sensitivity.

Change management has always inspired him and with his teams, he has successfully executed business development projects, product portfolio reviews, footprint and business models redesign. He always took into account the clear understanding of his customers' needs.

Giandomenico owns a Master's Degree in Electronics from Politecnico di Milano and a MBA in Digital Business from Universitat de Barcelona and Zigurat Global Institute of Technology.

With a passion for companies' digital transformation challenges, he was most recently a Partner at EI-Technologies.