AXCELPartners France

Jean-Michel has more than 30 years of experience in Industry and in Operational Consulting, the common thread of which is support for restructuring and economic change,

A career in various corporate functions then as director of regional development and reconversion in industry, Usinor / Sacilor (10 years) then Giat Industries (10 years) where he supported major restructuring movements (social plans, closure of industrial sites, etc.)

For 15 years he worked in the consulting business as director of a firm specializing in supporting restructuring and conversion (closure of industrial sites, support for social plans, search for buyers, redeployment, etc.) before joining the Mazars firm as a partner in the Restructuring practice in charge of the Redeployment service line.

This experience gives him a good knowledge of the French industrial map, procedures for preventing and dealing with the difficulties of companies and public actors supporting the economy.
