

Nicolas YATZIMIRSKY

PARTNER

AXCELPartnersFrance

Nicolas brings an extensive experience in many industries, having worked in the packaging industry and in the building material industry as General Manager and CEO. He led several full-fledged business transformations and has an extended experience of post merger integration and divestment.

Nicolas started his career as a production engineer in the paper industry, then he joined A.T.Kearney in Paris and Brussels where he contributed to the development of the manufacturing practice. He joined Saint-Gobain Isover as Manufacturing VP in 2000, later worked in the glass packaging division first as General Manager of the Brazilian entity then as GM of the French division. He was hired by Consolis as Western Europe VP, became CEO of the group, led the turnaround, boosted the digital transformation, and divested noncore businesses whilst integrating acquisitions in key European markets. Before joining Axcel Partners Nicolas was CEO of Albea Tubes where he improved the overall performance and strengthened the Asian footprint.

Nicolas received a Master of Science at Ecole Polytechnique and at ENSTA Paris, he holds a BA from Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris.